BAILEY SPEAKS IN OPPOSITION TO TARIFF BILL

been prosperous with a less duty?" he inquired.

Senator William Alden Smith engaged in a colloquy with the Texas senator concerning the difference of wages and the manner of life of the American and European wage earner.

Mr. Bailey stated that taking in view the superior productive power of the American laborer, he was no better paid than was the laborer of Germany. The difference of life, he said, was racial because those who had not engaged in protected industries in this country showed the same improved manner of living compared with Europeans as did the two and a half millions working in protected industries. He insisted that the American manufacturer did not pay higher wages because he sells his goods for a higher price, but because of the influence of competition and of labor organizations.

Mr. Bailey said one of the most prosperous periods in the history of the United States resulted from a low tariff, while Mr. Smith declared that one of the most disastrous periods in the business of the country resulted from a high tariff, referring to the Wilson tariff act.

Mr. Bailey also became involved in a discussion with Mr. Aldrich with regard to the latter's utterance in the senate in 1894 that the income tax was supported by the Socialist, Populist and Democratic parties. Mr. Bailey said that Mr. Taft now favored an income tax and asked Mr. Aldrich if he considered the president a Socialist, Populist or Democrat. Mr. Aldrich replied that his statement was true at the time it was made.

Warm Shots From Bailey.

Mr. Bailey declared Mr. Aldrich had voted for substantially all large appropriation measures. He said that the Rhode Island senator's recent statement in favor of economy indicated that he had been converted. This conversion, contended Mr. Bailey, occurred when the burden was about to be placed on the rich.

"If this bill, as he presented it," said Mr. Bailey, "coupled with an income tax will raise too much revenue, let's reduce the rate that we collect on the necessities of life."

Mr. Bailey insisted the rates of the pending bill could be reduced 23-1-3 per cent without greatly increasing the bulk of importations, although in his opinion the decrease would diminish to the extent of the reduction the price of manufactured articles to the American consumer.

"Does the senator think that the American manufacturer makes a profit of 33-1-3 per cent?" inquired Mr. Aldrich.

Mr. Bailey suggested that the United States Steel corporation with a capital of $360,000,000 had increased its capitalization to $1,000,000,000 and makes about 7 per cent on the larger sum.

"Obviously," he said, "the steel corporation could reduce its profit 23-1-3 per cent and still make more than a legitimate profit upon a fair valuation of its property."

Mr. Aldrich suggested that the United States Steel corporation produces only from 45 to 50 per cent of the steel output and asked whether the senator from Texas believed the other corporations could make a profit if the prices were reduced 23-1-3 per cent.

Points to Evidences.

"If I am permitted to judge by the size and equipment of their automobiles and the size and equipment of their yachts and by other extravagances they flaunt in the faces of the American consumers, I say yes," replied Mr. Bailey.

"Does the senator think the average industries make a profit of more than 23-1-3 per cent annually and regularly?" inquired Mr. Aldrich.

Mr. Bailey explained that a 23-1-3 per cent reduction in the rates of duty would not be equivalent to a 23-1-3 per cent reduction in profit. Again taking up the subject of income taxes, Mr. Bailey said that no "system of taxation ever devised had been so just, so equal and so proper as an income tax."

"How did the senator arrive at the income of $5,000 as the proper one to tax?" asked Mr. Aldrich, "instead of $4,000 or $3,000 or $2,000?"

Mr. Bailey replied that he had fixed that figure because he had assumed that incomes of $5,000 are spent upon living expenses, so that the recipient would be compelled to pay another than the income tax at the custom house on everything he purchased, and as the one tax had already been paid, exemption from the income tax seemed justified.

Class Distinction?

"I know what you want me to say and I am going to say it," he added. "I fixed upon $5,000 because I wanted it to affect as few people as possible, so that it might not provoke hostility."

"In other words," retorted Mr. Aldrich, "the senator wants to enact legis-

FAMILY COUGH SYRUP

Cures Any Cough in Five Hours.
NEW PRESCRIPTION HERE.

Here is given the "most effective cough prescription known to the medical world. It is a mild laxative, too, and this is what a body needs when suffering with cough and cold on the lungs. A cough or cold indicates poisons in the system, causing inflammation and congestion. Nearly all cough syrups relieve, but make the trouble worse by their constipating effects. This prescription not only relieves quickly, but it cures any cough that is curable. Get one-half ounce fluid wild cherry bark, one ounce compound essence cardiol and three ounces syrup white pine compound. Mix in a bottle. Take for acute cough or bronchitis twenty drops every half hour for four hours. Then one-half to one teaspoonful three or four times daily. Give children less according to age. A few hours' treatment will cure and heal the throat and lungs of all but consumptives. Cut this out and give it to some friend who may need it to be saved from an early death by consumption.

lation with a class distinction in order to get it through."

"Does the senator believe that Adam Smith was correct in saying that tax should be laid on what a body is able to bear them?" asked Mr. Bailey.

"Certainly," said Mr. Aldrich, who added that the constitution and every code of ethics and morals agreed that there should be no community and according to the means of the people to pay.

"That is rather a serious criticism," retorted Mr. Bailey, "of the Republican party, which, during the incumbency of Abraham Lincoln, levied an income tax upon some and exempted others."

Mr. Aldrich, returning to his criticism of the plan of income tax proposed by Mr. Bailey, said the laborers abroad received from 6 to 9 cents a day and from $50 to $200 a year, while American labor is paid about $700 a year. His plan, he said, would be to reduce the protection that is being given this American laborer over the foreign cheaper laborer.

Applause Greets This

"I would like," said Mr. Bailey, amid applause from the galleries, "to make it impossible for that cheap labor to come here at all."

The gavel of the vice president was necessary to restore order, and Mr. Aldrich said: "The senator would prevent these laborers coming to this country, but he would permit the product of that cheap labor to come here."

"The critic of this income tax," said Mr. Bailey, "will find small audiences in labor centers when he comes to complain that I don't tax somebody besides the taxpayer. I am willing to stand uncovered in the presence of that great tribunal, but I am not willing to be silent. The judgment of the supreme court governs me in any particular case and I submit without complaint to that judgment, but I don't subscribe to the doctrine that because the judges have spoken all other men must keep silent."

Referring to an "expatriated citizen," who, he said, owned $10,000,000 of real estate in New York city, he said the workmen of this country were taxed to protect his property, while he was not taxed during the war with Spain. The workmen, he said, who paid a tax upon a plug of tobacco paid more for the support of the federal government than did that expatriated citizen.

Postponing the conclusion of his remarks until tomorrow, when he said he would give some attention to supreme court decisions on an income tax.

"I do not think that any citizen or senator is precluded from indulging in just and fair criticism of any question relating to any department of this government. I am willing to stand uncovered in the presence of that great tribunal, but I am not willing to be silent. The judgment of the supreme court governs me in any particular case and I submit without complaint to that judgment, but I don't subscribe to the doctrine that because the judges have spoken all other men must keep silent."

A Lazy Stomach the Cause of Thinness, Nine Times in Ten.

If you are thin or lean, have scrawny arms and neck, you can't grow fat unless your food properly digests.
